Los Angeles, CA (March 28, 2008)—“Marlo Productions releases “A Simple Promise,” April 22, 2008, to DVD at major retailers and rental services worldwide. The dramatic feature presentation written by Emmy Award Winner Max Lucas-Tucker stars the sexy Layla Kayleigh, host of the “World Poker Tour” and Fox’s on-air correspondent for “The Best Damn Sports Show Period.” And co-stars the talented Wallace Demarria, whose credits include the stage play “Metamorphoses.” A Simple Promise is an incredibly witty and sexy feature drama, about love, pursuing dreams, and sacrifice unique to the city of big dreams.

Lucas-Tucker’s depiction of a period in the lives of Marcus Savage, a brilliant artist and his unusually beautiful and talented girlfriend, Madison Lane, isn’t the typical portrayal of Hollywood dreams. “A Simple Promise” is a modern day masterpiece that captures the nations current mood for mysticism and the belief that nothing happens by accident.

“It was important for me to weave an enthralling story about love, challenges, and the painful sacrifices, often necessary, to make dreams come true,” said Max Lucas-Tucker the film’s writer whose network credits include MTV’s “The Real World,” which is television’s first reality show, NBC’s “Starting Over,” and Oxygen Network’s “Bad Girls Club” which was the highest rated show in Oxygen’s history.

“The beauty of this movie is that its story gave us the inspiration to keep going, it’s intensity and truth was compelling. It’s important to us that movie lovers everywhere benefit from Lucas-Tucker’s message,” said Dianna Harris of Marlo Productions.

A Simple Promise is already attracting prestigious acclaim, including accolades from Fox Morning News and ASCAP. The Chicago Indie, La Femme and San Diego Film Festivals recently selected Marlo Productions and Max Lucas-Tucker’s presentation as the official feature selection. This drama is a must see, and promises to capture the hearts of dreamers and their loved ones, timelessly.
