

QuickTICKLA.

DECEMBER 1, 2005

World AIDS Day

PICTURE THIS

Born to a drug addict who perinatally infected her with HIV, 21-year-old Hydeia Broadbent (foreground), a published author who has been an activist for AIDS causes since she was six, is the most famous member of a Las Vegas family that will be the subject of a Dec. 11 installment of ABC's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition Holiday Wishes. Despite several members of the family having cancer, HIV and other health challenges, the Broadbents regularly deliver meals to shut-ins and others who are alone for the holidays. And as Hydeia's activism has ramped up in recent years, she is eager for the message to spread. "Making a difference is not just about me," she said in a recent interview. "It's up to the people who hear me and how they decide to respond." — Billie Jordan

QUICKTICK
QUICKTICK
QUICKTICK

traveling to earthquake-ravaged Pakistan, meet with nation's p Top Model winner  Adrianne Curry; vows to be filmed for son run in May, due to poor ratings • Report:  Britney S
•  Heidi Klum and  Elizabeth Hurley sued by writer Joel